Charities and Trading: How to Optimise Revenue Stream

Microsoft is not everyone’s cup of tea, however we have to work with their products in our day-to-day lives. Microsoft are offering charities discounted prices on their Office 365 range. The best offer is their Office 365 Business Premium. Qualifying charities can have this for £1.50 per month/per user. So if you have, for example, 10 employees you can have this for £180 per year.

Charity Sector | Budget 2017 Update

It appeared that the Budget announcement didn’t focus as much on the third sector, with only four mentions. However, there were still a considerable amount of changes that will affect charities. One progressive change included the increased funding to help tackle issues surrounding homelessness. Read our update on the changes that will affect the third sector.

Add-on of the Month

Productivity is always a priority for any charity trustee. Therefore, this month’s favourite has to be Arlo - a toolbox of features to help your charity with all of its event management needs. Arlo is a great app for those who regularly hold events or fundraisers. Whether you are organising a single fundraiser or a range of complex campaigns, Arlo acts as a one stop shop to help you with everything from online registrations to invoicing and complex reports. What is more, Arlo integrates with a range of apps including Xero and GoToWebinar, so you can consolidate all your event planning needs in one place. Also, you can log in from anywhere, using either your computer or mobile device, making administration a breeze. The software is really simple to set up and perfect for charities of all sizes.
